But as we progress in this way of life and in faith, we shall run on the path of God’s commandments, our hearts overflowing with the inexpressible delight of love.

~ Rule of St. Benedict, Prologue, Verse 49
Greetings with an invitation!

Most mornings I greet the day with two or three rounds of the monastery grounds!

…and a good beginning for my 10,000 committed steps for exercise.

Early, as our treasured employees are arriving, the delivery trucks are keeping us supplied, the nocturnal animals are headed for a “day” of rest and the birds sing in the sunrise, the trees speak PEACE!

In these pages of Reflections, we invite you to “Shalom”… peace at the Monastery.

The shuttering of a building and moving the ministry to the monastery is giving us new opportunities to offer peace. The monastery is a place of hospitality and prayer. That is the foundation of the peace that is felt when you drive onto the beautiful grounds. Silence is the first language of the monastery. The chapel bell calls us to the Liturgy of the Hours four times a day. Every morning, Eucharist is celebrated, bringing all the intentions of our hearts and your hearts to our God, who is listening intently.

COME… come away and rest awhile.
Take some time to give your soul a deep breath.
Come for a day of quiet, or a weekend of peace.

In this issue of Reflections, there are many opportunities to join us for retreats, workshops or time away and apart. Our daily life can become quite the wild ride if we don’t take time for silent reflection and integration. What are the deeper places of spiritual experience our God may be calling you to explore? The possibilities are infinite!

Looking forward to greeting you,

Sister Jane Hibbard, SNJM

The Benedictine Sisters’

2018 Founder’s Day Dinner

Sunday, October 28
5:00 p.m.
Agatha Hall, Queen of Angels Monastery
840 South Main St., Mount Angel

An evening benefiting the Benedictine Sisters of Mt. Angel
When looking at the monastery from Main Street, you can’t see Agatha Hall – it sits behind the chapel and hospitality center. It is tucked away and out of sight. Much like the Benedictine Sisters themselves, Agatha Hall has quietly served the community for over 100 years. It has silently woven its way into the lives of so many. If the old, wooden walls of Agatha Hall could speak, the stories they could tell would be truly inspirational.

Originally built as a temporary structure, Agatha Hall, then referred to as the gymnasium/auditorium, was two-stories tall and built entirely of wood. It was added as part of the newly constructed academy building completed in 1912. The original structure included a stage, used for performances, and a balcony that wrapped around three of the four walls and overlooked the gymnasium. It was from this balcony the Sisters would watch theater and musical performances, games, and, later, dances put on by the students. Eventually, enough money was raised to properly side the outside of the building and it became a permanent addition.

After the academy and college closed, the gymnasium/auditorium was repurposed into a reception hall. In 1975, the stage was removed and converted into a kitchen. Over the next 18 years, the building was used to host countless receptions, jubilee celebrations, weddings, fundraisers, art festivals, and other community events. Through all of the changes in the world and local community, the reception hall remained a constant presence – a place where people could gather and celebrate together.

In 1993, an earthquake caused extensive damage to the academy building. Eventually, the building was razed and the current chapel and hospitality center was built in its place. The reception hall, constructed mostly from wood, remained unharmed. It was decided to incorporate the building into the construction of the new chapel and hospitality center. This was completed in 1998, and the hall was renamed Agatha Hall, in honor of Sister Agatha Hess.

Today, Agatha Hall serves as the heart of Shalom at the Monastery – the Benedictine Sisters’ spiritual direction and retreat ministry. It serves as a meeting space and retreat center. “This was a beautiful, peaceful place for me to step away from my life and reflect,” commented one retreatant. Agatha Hall is open for community events. It’s recently refinished floors are part of an effort to ensure memories will continue to be made for many years to come.

The Joy of Ministry, Sister Joan Pokorny, OSB

A key ministry/component of the Benedictine Sisters’ Shalom at the Monastery is intimately related to the Rule of St. Benedict. This ministry is spiritual direction, or sometimes called, spiritual companioning. Simply put, spiritual direction is listening carefully (Prologue, Rule of St. Benedict) and generously to the journey of another person. Spiritual direction is about encouraging the directee to seek wisdom and to draw closer to God.

To see into the heart of this ministry and learn more about it, we asked Sister Joan Pokorny, a long time spiritual director, some salient questions.

How did you know that you were called to be a spiritual director?

I find joy and satisfaction being with people and listening to them as they grow, change and integrate their spiritual journey in their everyday lives. I felt called by God’s grace to change from my junior high teaching ministry to the ministry of spiritual direction. Both ministries have a strong mentoring component in them.

I was drawn to the study of Christian spirituality and reflected extensively on how God was working in my life. I wanted to share what I learned and felt called to do so. Dealing with health changes, including healing after cancer surgery, encouraged me to open up the topic of self-care issues with the people with whom I meet and to listen to their stories. The compassionate love and healing that God wants to share with each of us became more profoundly relevant and clear to me. The growth, change, and unique journey of others is important to me. I am edified and grateful to witness people searching and seeking God in their life experiences and growing on their journey.

How long have you been a spiritual director?

I have been a spiritual director for 25 years, an instructor of the Shalom Prayer Center’s Spiritual Direction Program, ‘With Hearts Expanding,’ as well as a supervisor of spiritual directors. A thread in my life over these past 56 years of being a Benedictine Sister is teaching the ways of the spiritual life to many people. As a spiritual director, it is important to know that Holy Spirit is the true spiritual director of each of us. The spiritual director seeks to help the directee listen to the Spirit’s invitations to more abundant life and to experience the life of God within.

Who can come for spiritual direction?

Anyone who is interested and committed to seeking a deeper relationship with God in his/her life is welcome to come for spiritual direction. All that comes into a person’s life is relevant for the spiritual direction conversation. Entering into spiritual direction can be a life-defining moment.

Four Words: A Reflection on Shalom at the Monastery

By Sister Dorothy Jean Beyer, OSB

The Benedictine Sisters welcome you to our retreat ministry, Shalom at the Monastery. We are celebrating our first anniversary, after the closure of Shalom Prayer Center in June 2017. Our first year has been one of learning, and also one of excitement, as we have reached out to you, our friends, and you, our friends yet to be. How would I describe our retreat ministry? These are the words I use: Benedictine, unique, hospitality, and deep listening.

Benedictine: Our ministry draws deeply from the Benedictine monastic tradition. There is a stillness—a deep peace—that pervades our buildings and grounds. It is felt by retreatants and visitors as soon as they drive or walk onto our grounds. The trees, perhaps most especially the giant sequoia, bear silent witness that this is “holy ground” where the early pioneering sisters formed the bricks of their new monastery in 1887 out of the clay of this property. This year, Queen of Angels Monastery is celebrating its 136th anniversary and we, the Benedictine Sisters, small in number, but rich in monastic spirituality, welcome you as fellow pilgrims on the journey.

Unique: Our retreat ministry is in the very heart of our monastery, in the chapel, chapter room, and monastic refectory. These rooms are built around “the breaking of the bread” and “the breaking of the word,” for each other and for all who come to the monastery seeking life and wholeness. These are the rooms that are sacred to us, where we share life, anchor ourselves in hope, and find joy in the Lord in such abundance.

Hospitality: The Rule of St. Benedict is very Christ-centered. In Chapter 53 of the Rule, St. Benedict instructs his members to welcome all guests as Christ. The Benedictine Sisters’ community strives to meet all with the courtesy of love by praying together, and by giving gracious honor to all. The Sisters’ retreat ministry is steeped in the Catholic tradition of treating all with respect and courtesy. All are welcomed in the spirit of warm, genuine, and friendly “Benedictine” hospitality. The Benedictine community provides those who are seeking respite and rest from the hectic world, a place of peace, a place of prayer, a place of serene beauty, and a place of solid spirituality.

Deep listening: The first word of the Rule of St. Benedict is “Listen.” “Listen carefully… with the ear of your heart.” (Prologue 1) When you listen carefully to someone, and when someone is attentively listening to you, amazing things can happen. New insights, new invitations, new understandings, new commitments, and new surprises are seen and heard, and answered. When we are in serious discernment and active listening, the Spirit is alive and stirs our hearts to great things. We are surprised by how God is working in our lives and in the lives of others. In the Benedictine life and retreat work, we cultivate attentive, active, transformative listening, especially during spiritual direction, prayer, lectio divina, retreats, and silence.

The Benedictine Sisters have been committed to encouraging others on the spiritual journey, beginning in a more formal way as early in their history as 1934 by offering retreats to women each summer. Then, in 1972, Shalom Prayer Center opened with Sister Jill Aigner as the first administrator. This past year saw the transition from the Shalom building to Shalom at the Monastery. The retreat ministry is very dear and sacred to the hearts of the Sisters. We invite you to make Shalom at the Monastery dear to your hearts, too. We hope you will come for a retreat, a monthly discussion, spiritual direction, or just a visit. We want you to be a part of our journey to God.

Archbishop Sample Visits Monastery

The Most Reverend Archbishop Alexander K. Sample paid a visit to Queen of Angels Monastery on Tuesday, July 10. Archbishop Sample joined the Sisters for Vespers and dinner. His visit fell on the eve of the Solemnity of Saint Benedict, a very special time for the Sisters.

This was the Archbishop’s first visit to the monastery. “He was so open and complimentary,” said Sister Theresa Henscheid, OSB. “We were nervous at first, but his openness made the experience very enjoyable.”.

SOAR! Awards Grant to Queen of Angels

Support Our Aging Religious (SOAR!), a nonprofit organization that raises and provides funds for congregations to meet the immediate needs of their retired members, has awarded a $6,000 grant to the monastery. The money will be used to purchase zero-gravity reclining chairs for our elderly Sisters. Dan Fannin, a member of SOAR’s board of directors, presented the check to the Sisters during a special visit to the monastery in June.

Sisters Dedicate New Garden, Host Clean-Up Day

Longtime friends of the Sisters, Dr. Richard Mullins and Barbara Lenfesty, have spent the summer tending to a new garden on the monastery grounds. The Sisters held a special ceremony to bless and dedicate the new garden.

In June, the Sisters opened up the monastery grounds like never before. A monastery-wide clean-up day was held. The Sisters called on the community for help pulling weeds, trimming, and gardening. Nearly 20 members of the local community helped get the monastery grounds ready for summer. The Sisters hope to make the clean-up day an annual activity.
Sisters Welcome 140 for 1st Annual BBQ

The 1st Annual Monastery BBQ was held on July 15. Despite the expected high temperatures, nearly 140 guests, friends and family of the Sisters attended the event celebrating the Solemnity of St. Benedict. The event began with Mass in the monastery chapel, celebrated by Father Peter Eberle, OSB. Guests were then invited to a hosted reception featuring the late Sister Immaculata’s famous buttermilk coffee cake. Sister Dorothy Jean Beyer, OSB, and Sister Jane Hibbard, SNJM, led a short reflection on St. Benedict and a blessing before lunch was served. Next year’s barbeque will be held on Sunday, July 14.

Sisters Get Ready for Annual Oktoberfest

The 53rd Annual Mount Angel Oktoberfest will be held September 13-16, 2018, and the Benedictine Sisters will once again have a booth. Preparations are already underway to ensure plenty of inventory is available for the four-day festival celebrating Mount Angel’s German heritage. The Sisters will be selling the late Sister Immaculata’s famous buttermilk coffee cakes - a staple of Oktoberfest – along with an assortment of other handmade items including Sister Rocio’s beautiful rosaries and Sister Marietta’s famous scrubbies. Stop by the booth and say hello!

Two Heritage Trail Signs to Be Installed

Queen of Angels will be home to two stops on the new Mount Angel Heritage Trail. The signs have already been designed and will be installed this fall. The first marker will tell the history of Queen of Angels Monastery, and the second will feature Mt. Angel Academy and Normal School. Both signs will be placed near the Main Street entrances. The monastery is the perfect spot to start the trail that will highlight 17 historically significant sites in Mount Angel.
Our Benedictine community was invited by the National Religious Retirement Office (NRRO) to engage in a planning process for the future needs of our Sisters. Through the generosity of many donors across the country, this group, under the auspices of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, awards grants from money collected each year for the needs of retired religious women and men. In addition to providing grants to retired religious, they also provide training and many other excellent resources for communities looking to plan for their future.

Also helping us plan for our future are two advisory committees. These two groups meet regularly with us to share their expertise and wisdom in the areas of finance and development.

The Finance Advisory Committee meets to review our financial position, help us make sound investments, and suggest ways to use our limited resources wisely. The Mission Advancement Advisory Committee helps generate creative ideas for how to best use our wonderful property, and how to keep all our many friends, family and supporters aware of events and opportunities taking place at our monastery.

Together, both of these committees bring a wealth of expertise and knowledge to our Benedictine community. We are hopeful, excited and optimistic that with their help, your support, and guidance from the Holy Spirit and Saint Benedict, our future will be filled with light, peace, and happiness.
Thank You!

Century Club Campaign Raises
$40,000 for the Sisters

The Sisters are humbled by the support received as part of their annual Century Club campaign. So far, over 150 donors have contributed nearly $40,000 in support of the Sisters’ monastic community. This year’s campaign asked for gifts of $136 - $1 for every year of the community’s history. The money raised goes directly to the Sisters to help their community thrive, and to help further the Benedictine monastic tradition of seeking God in everyone and in every circumstance.

If you wish to support the Century Club campaign, it isn’t too late! Visit www.Benedictine-Srs.org/CenturyClub to learn more about this appeal and to donate online. You can also send a gift directly to the Sisters at Queen of Angels Monastery, 840 S. Main St., Mount Angel, OR 97362. You can also make a gift with a debit or credit card over the phone. Shalom at the Monastery Receives Anonymous Donation

Shalom at the Monastery received an anonymous donation of $8,333. It is the largest gift made to the retreat and spiritual direction ministry since the closing of the retreat center building last year. Gifts like these help ensure the ministries of Shalom continue to reach those seeking a peaceful environment where persons of all faiths and cultural traditions are welcome to seek wholeness and deepen their relationship with God.

Providence Benedictine Nursing Center

Responding to a call for supportive and compassionate care for the community’s elderly, the Sisters opened Benedictine Village Home in 1955. The need soon outgrew the facility, and in 1957, the Benedictine Nursing Center was built just north of Queen of Angels Monastery. The nursing center became a part of Providence Health Systems in 1998. Today, the Providence Benedictine Nursing Center (PBNC) provides award-winning skilled care, assisted living, home health, hospice, and child development services.

The mission of the PBNC closely reflects the values and mission of the Benedictine Sisters, who remained involved with the nursing center as much as possible. On Thursday, July 5, the Providence Benedictine Nursing Center Hospice staff (our next-door neighbors) came to our monastery for an in-service that included a presentation on end of life customs and rituals presented by Sister Joseph Fennimore, a tour of the monastery by Sister Christine Rausch and Sister Marietta Schindler, and a brief presentation on the spiritual practice of walking the labyrinth, presented by Sister Joan Pokorny and Sister Dorothy Jean Beyer. After the presentation, the hospice staff walked the outside labyrinth on our campus.

St. Joseph Shelter, Mission Benedict and Casa Adele

St. Joseph Shelter first opened its doors in 1988. It was a ministry of hospitality in response to the Gospel message of caring for those in need and honoring St. Benedict’s instruction to welcome all as Christ. The Sisters, through the shelter, provided meals, housing, clothing, advocacy, referrals, emergency assistance, and, most importantly, a supportive and loving community. Mission Benedict and Casa Adele were added as companion programs.

Last year, St. Joseph Shelter and its programs became a part of the Catholic Community Services family of programs. Today, the Sisters continue to support the shelter as much as possible. This has taken many forms, including helping to plan and staff the annual St. Joseph the Worker Dinner, and helping at Mission Benedict.

A Symphony of Sound and Color

A Harvest Prayer by Sister Maureen Niedermeyer, OSB

How blest, O Lord, are the works of your hands!
The heavens above and the earth below,
All creation sings of your glory!

The earth reveals your eternal presence:
apple trees heavy with juicy fruit,
fields ripe with waving grain,
wild blue breakers crashing on our shores,
raucous cries of the gulls,
mammoth beasts of the deep,
red-breasted robins on their perch, multi-colored vegetables climbing up towards the warmth of the sun.

For all of these blessings, we thank you, Lord!
The music and beauty of all creation shows your extravagant love!
Continue to sing on in me and in all that you have fashioned.
